Volume 51, Number 12. CAMPBELL, SANTA CLARA COUNTY, CALIFORNIA Thursday, February 7, 1946

'round town

with Betty Allen...

Lunch in the grammar school cafeteria Monday was an interesting experience—the food is good and the organization wonderful. The very small youngsters have help from the older ones with trays and the difficult problem of money which is checked off on cards by one of the teachers. It was surprising to notice what sensible choices the tiny ones made in food, taking soup and meat and milk first.

During the cold spell we noticed a man walking up Campbell Ave. with a small stove strapped to his back. It was probably just a convenient way to carry it but still I wonder if it wouldn't have other advantages.

Howard Smith, E. R. Thompson and A. L. Applegarth are taking Boy Scout Troop 31 on a three-day snow trip to Longbarn. The boys are reported to be wildly excited over the prospects.

This will not enthrall our male readers, but our feminine ones will be interested to know that there was a definite predominance of purples among the dresses and hats at the Country Woman's club birthday party. They ranged from pinky lavenders to deep fuchsias, and this choice no doubt has some deep seated meaning for those who delve into the mysterious ways of women's fashions.

Speaking of colors, between the mustard in the orchards and the acacia trees, the whole countryside is looking as though it had been painted in big splashes of yellow.

Mrs. H. Cousins will act as chairman for this year's Red Cross drive and is busy getting the campaign organized and everything is in readiness for the opening of the drive next month.

It seems that the Rev. Osborne, who had attended a Kiwanis meeting in San Jose to make up for one missed here, brought two attendance slips from the meeting. When asked how he could have been there twice at the same meeting, he said, "Oh, I was beside myself."

All the arrangements were made at a San Jose hospital for the arrival of a new baby in the Henry Lorenzini family, but Tuesday, the baby upset plans by arriving in Palo Alto while the Lorenzinis were on the way to San Francisco. As if that wasn't enough to harass the new father, he had a nerve-wracking experience the following day. He had been told at the Palo Alto hospital that he was the proud father of a 5 lb. 6 oz. baby girl. Wednesday morning he arrived in Palo Alto bright and early to see his wife and new daughter, when a distraught nurse informed him that she had made a terrible mistake—his offspring was a 10 lb. 11 oz. boy!

Pot-Luck Dinner Planned

The Campbell post of the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary will meet together next Wednesday evening for a pot-luck dinner at 6:30 in the Woman's Club. Honored guests at the dinner will be last fall's high school football team.

World War II members of the post are discussing plans for starting a baseball team.

George Robson Ill

George Robson, Campell Ave., has been ill with the flu.

Every week a name will be drawn from our list of new subscribers and printed in the classified ad column. The person whose name appears there may receive two free passes to the Campbell Theater by calling at the Press Office. Look and see if your name is there!

Officers Elected For Dryer

Joseph V. Gomes was elected president of the Campbell Cooperative Dryer at the annual meeting of the group last week. Other officials elected for 1946 are: John B. Benson, vice-president; Robert Scholz, secretary; and Stanley B. Smith and H. C. Jepson, directors.

The meeting also featured a report to the group by G. K. Schrader, manager of the dryer. He considered the past year highly successful, though difficult, and said it was certainly the most eventful year since the inception of the organization.

Despite interruptions and mechanical accidents, 12,552 tons were dried at a cost of only 18 cents a ton more than the previous year.

During 1945, 12 new dehydrating tunnels were added, giving the dryer a total of 36 tunnels and making it the largest single dehydration unit in the world.

Kiwanis Club

Guests at the Kiwanis weekly luncheon Tuesday were . LeRoy Wright, secretary of the Los Gatos club, Lawrence Smith of the Salvation Army and the San Jose club, and Janet Giacomazzi of the Campbell High school student body.

Jack Murdock gave an achievement report of the club which included the information that the average yearly attendance was 97% and that 27 members were 100% in attendance for 1945. He also listed the club's services to the community in national and local needs, some of which were the bond sales, chest drive, and salvage drive. Donations were made during the year to youth organizations, wheelchairs for crippled veterans, and the Legion's honor roll on the high school grounds.

Robert Carlson To Be Ordained

This coming Wednesday, February 13, Mr. Robert L. Carlson will be ordained as a Congregational minister. The traditional examination of the candidate will be held at 4:00 p. m. During the examination the candidate for the ministry reads a paper covering his religious experience, his reasons for entering the ministry, and a statement of faith.

The ordination service will commence at 7:30 p. m. Dr. Frank E. Carlson, father of Mr. Carlson and comptroller of the Pacific School of Religion, is to preach the ordination sermon, and the Rev. Robert Inglis, minister of Plymouth Congregational church, Oakland, is to offer the ordaining prayer. Othere taking part in the service are Dr. Harley H. Gill, superintendent of the Northern California Congregational Conference; the Rev. Lawrence J. Osborne of Campbell; the Rev. Stephen C. Peabody of San Jose; the Rev. Augustine Jones of Palo Alto; the Rev. Sidney Buckham of San Mateo; the Rev. H. J. Loken of San Carlos; the Rev. Gordon King of Saratoga; and the Rev. Henry Hoyt Hayden of Guerneville. The general public is invited to the ordination service.

It is the custom of the Congregational church to ordain a minlater towards the beginning of his first full-time pastorate and following his college and seminary work. While serving a church before his ordination the minister is licensed which temporarily bestows upon him the right to administer the sacraments and to perform the sacred duties of the Christian ministry.

Mr. Carlson is a graduate of the University of Oregon, '42, and the Pacific School of Religion, '45, cum laude. Last August he accepted the call to the Congregational church of this city.

Since coming to Campbell, Mr. Carlson has been active in young people's work, serves as scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 31, advisor of the West Bay Pilgrim Fellowship and is a member of the San Jose symphony orchestra.

Legion Convention To Be Held in S. F.

This year's American Legion convention will be held in San Francisco, according to Bill Weeks, local legionnaire, who says the dates have been set for Sept. 29 to Oct. 4.

It has been many years since a Legion convention has been held on the West Coast, and it will probably mean, in keeping with Legion traditions, that the National Commander, elected at the annual conventions, will be a California man.

The fall gathering will also mark the first convention at which veterans of World War II will join veterans of World War I. Many local members have already made reservations in San Francisco hotels for the event, the scene of which will be the Legion Memorial Hall.

Last Sunday the San Jose post was host for the area at a meeting in the Eagle Hall, which was attended by delegates from all over the state. Pete Navarro presided and the speech of the day was made by Homer Schalloux, state adjutant, who talked on "Rehabilitation."

Class Party

The graduating class of the Campbell Grammar schol celebrated with a skating party at the Auditorium Roller Rink in San Jose last Tuesday afternoon. Miss Dorothy Merriman, acting vice-principal, and G. A. Tindall escorted them on the outing.

Nation To Observe Boy Scout Week

The Boy Scouts of the Nation, observing their 36th anniversary during Boy Scout week, Feb. 8 to 14, are helping brother Scouts in war-torn lands, through an unusual project known as the "Shirts-Off-Our-Back" campaign.

Now numbering nearly two million, the Boy Scouts and their leaders are contributing used but clean and serviceable Scout uniform parts and campaign equipment to help boys overseas resume their Scouting activities.

A special effort is being made during February to call at homes of former members for Scout uniforms and accessories no longer needed.

In approving this nationwide effort, the National Executive Board of the Boy Scouts of America emphasized that the collection is not to be thought of as charity, but instead a sharing by one Scout with another.

Scouts are giving up parts of their uniforms and equipment that they may not be able to replace soon, but Scout leaders feel this helpfulness will create an interest on the part of American Scouts in brother Scouts in other lands, their customs and history. Since each Scout donor is asked to include his name and address on the equipment, it is felt that friendships thus formed will contribute to world-wide understanding.

Usable uniform parts being collected include Boy Scout and Cub Scout shirts (without badges), hats and caps, shorts, neckerchiefs and slides, lanyards, belts, stockings and shoes. Equipment desired for shipment overseas includes axes, knives, mess kits, duffel bags, haversacks, sleeping bags, tents, bugles, compasses, fire-making sets, first aid kits, signaling flags, whistles, and Scout literature.

The World Friendship Fund, consisting of voluntary contributions of Boy Scouts, will defray all shipping costs.

L. E. Garcia Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weeks entertained Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Garcia, their son, Bethel, and daughter, Beulah, in honor of Mr. Garcia's birthday Feb. 1.

Campbell Justice Court

In Campbell Justice Court the number of traffic cases for January was more than for the same month last year, but all cases were minor, either "no arterial stop" or "double parking". The total for these two was 14. All were fined.

A woman parked in front of the fire house and cheerfully paid a fine of $2.00.

There was one criminal trial. A landlord charged a former tenant with moving away with personal property that did not belong to him. The tenant pleaded not guilty. Judge Bell of Los Gatos sat for Judge Blaine because the latter was a friend of the complainant. Judge Bell found the defendant not guilty.

Criminal trials in justice courts are rare because nearly all defendants plead guilty. In the local court, criminal trials do not average more than three or four a year.

Born on Sister's Birthday

There will be two birthdays on the same day from now on in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Roll, for a new arrival, Katherine Alice, was born Jan. 31, which is the birthday of her sister, Elizabeth Ann. The baby, who arrived at O'Connor Sanitarium, also has an older brother, Richard Robert. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R. I. Roll of San Jose.

Former Student Here Announces Engagement

Miss Alice Ann Cooney, a graduate of the Campbell Union High school, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Cooney, San Jose, has announced her engagement to Mac Reed Moore of Apopka, Fla.

By S. N. HEDEGARD

First, let me offer my congratulations to the new owners of The Campbell Press for taking a place so badly needed to keep our people together, to help solve our community problems, and to keep step with our natural growth. The enlargement of The Press is a step forward and in that direction may I mention a few needs for our community.

Our schools have been our pride and have placed our town in the forward class of communities. Let us stay with our consolidation and build our future growth in Campbell. We may lose certain areas to our neighboring cities but that is to be expected.

We should open our industrial area along the railroad widen our streets and roads, have set-back lines that will take care of future growth, and make our business area desirable for the serving of about 400 families to the west If we do this, it may double in size in the next five years We must regulate our growth rather than check it.

A few years ago we lost our car line and railroad service and then we lost our bank because of failure to object. Now we need a Post Office with parking room to serve our community, a bank, and a community hall and lodge rooms to take care of our social and lodge activities.

I suggest that each of these problems and other problems be subjects for a forum in The Press for open discussion.

MUNITIONS TO JAPAN

DASHINGTON—The Pearl Harbor investigating committee has now spent nearly three months digging into military-naval-political reasons why we were caught asleep on Dec. 7, 1941. While this is important, all the facts show that Japan would have attacked anyway; if not at Pearl Harbor, at some other place, and if not on Dec. 7, at some other time.

Meanwhile we have seized various documents from the Japs, showing that this war was carefully built up over a period of years and that certain American munitions makers were either unsuspecting or deliberate Jap co-partners.

If we are to prevent war in the future—and that presumably is one motive of the Pearl Harbor committee—the manner in which American business aided the Japs to prepare for Pearl Harbor is important. We must build up machinery so this doesn't happen again.

MUNITIONS LOBBIES

One thing the Pearl Harbor committee might well investigate is the way lobbies developed in Washington to put pressure on the government to sell war goods to Japan. These lobbies, representing oil, gasoline, scrap iron, airplanes, machine tools, made a lot of headway with the Army and Navy, sometimes with the State Department.

One man they never affected was Harold Ickes. As Secretary of the Interior he controls the export of helium gas, and at exactly the same month the above report was written, the Germans were trying to buy helium from the U. S. A. for their zeppelins.

The Army, the Navy and Secretary of State Hull gave their okay. But Ickes said no—unless American inspectors were stationed in Germany to see how the helium was used. Finally the question came up in cabinet meeting. Secretary Hull gave a long speech telling why it was perfectly safe to sell helium to Germany without inspection. As the vote went around the table, every cabinet member voted against Ickes.

But Ickes still said no. Under the law, the Secretary of the Interior has absolute control over the export of helium. No one can overrule him. So finally FDR turned to Ickes and said:

"Well, Harold, you're the boss. You win."

VETERANS' PROBLEMS

Lt. Col. R. P. Bronson, chief of the contact and service branch of the Veterans' administration, blinked when he was handed a telegram from a distressed veteran the other day. It read:

"Assistance needed stop brother murdered here December 26 stop reply by wire."

Colonel Bronson instructed an aide to phone the veteran's home city and see that he was given immediate help. Then he continued to leaf through the daily file of pleas that come to his desk.

"It's all in a day's work", he said. "But I'll admit that one had me stumped for a while."

Wide and varied are the SOS appeals the Veterans' administration receives from men wearing the discharge insignia. They range from vets wanting to get traffic tickets "fixed" to those who want to adopt children, purchase new automobiles or get liquor licenses.

"We're the 'Little Mother' agency of the government," said the colonel, a two-fisted overseas veteran with a sense of humor and four battle stars on his campaign ribbons. "We do our best, but of course we can't please everybody. It would make it a lot easier on us if some of our correspondents realized that their off-the track problems hinder the handling of thousands of legitimate requests from men seeking benefits under the G. I. Bill of Rights and so on. When they ask us to find them wives, that sort of stumps us."

The love interest is uppermost in unsual V. A. mail. However, a Maryland vet recently wanted help in getting his water main connected.

A West Virginian posed the following $64 question:

"Do you know of or can you find out about some governmental agency which can assist me in finding a wife? I am a veteran of two years and nine months service—age 39—and so far, for some unknown reason, I am unsuccessful in finding a bride. Hope to receive a favorable reply very soon."

Service Man Praises Press

A letter from Alvin Bonds, who was a member of the class of '45 at the High school here will be of interest to his many friends:

"Dear Editor:

"I have been receiving The Campbell Press for about four weeks now and am very pleased at its broad coverage of local news. It is very interesting to pick up The Press and read about people whom you know. The newspapers here are good only for national and international news; their local items of interest mean nothing to me, but those of The Campbell Press do.

"I was stationed in Long Island City, New York, studying photography at the Signal Corps Photographic Center for a while and then I was transferred to the Officer Candidates' School here at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey.

"Sincerely yours,

"ALVIN L. BONDS."

Officer Candiate Bonds' address is O. C. S. 1, S. T. C., Fort Monmouth, New Jersey.

New Equipment At Shell Station

McCoy's Shell Service Station has recently installed an "auto rock" machine which keeps the car in a swaying motion while being lubricated. Mr. McCoy says: "The device is intended to lubricate the car practically under driving conditions and thus assures perfect lubrication of the knee action unit and the entire front system. It is also designed to detect squeaks, rattles and defects usually apparent only when the car is being driven."

A hair lives from two to five years.

Priority Urged For Vets

Veterans priority over state and municipal governments in the purchase of surplus war materials was urged today by Richard H. Newhall, California Department Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Newhall said veterans should be given top priority over all but the federal government in surplus purchase. "Otherwise," he said, "veterans may be deprived of the right to acquire much needed articles such as automobiles, tractors, building materials and other equipment."

"Veterans will not be satisfied with the method of disposing of surplus property," Newhall said, "until they knew what they can buy, where they can buy it, and be assured that disposal agencies will no longer be permitted to channel goods to dealers, while hidnig them from veterans.

"Only 10 per cent of veterans desiring surplus property are getting nominal access to it, but collusion and chicanery at the sales point is barring even this small percentage of veterans from the goods now sought in vain.

"The rules must be changed," Newhall declared, adding that the VFW recommends that veteran priority, rather than preference, "be enunciated clearly as the prime objective of the Surplus Property Act" and that such priority be recognized in the purchase of items for homes and personal use for which veterans' preference cannot now be applied.

"The sale of government surplus property to veterans under the Surplus Property Act of 1944 has never been properly implemented," Newhall said. "The dealers are still getting the property and the veterans are still on the outside. There is no doubt that Congress intends that veterans, who have been living under definite handicaps during the war, be enabled to buy surplus property as an aid in their rehabilitation."

Club Women To Hear About Russia

"Russia—The Newcomer" will be discussed at San Jose State College Little Theater by Dr. Aurelia Henry Reinhardt next Saturday, Feb. 9, at 2:00 p. m. The youngest of the Big Five, the Union of the Socialist Soviet Republics, more than any of the allies is a country not easy for the understanding of Americans; and a government unlike our own in many fundamental respects. These differences were evident during the charter making last spring, and will continue during the organizational meetings in London to challenge the good sense, the intelligence and sympathy of all cooperating groups. Dr. Reinhardt served as consultant to the U. S. State Department at the World Peace Conference in San Francisco last spring. These talks serve as a basis for reading with understanding about the London meetings. The public is cordially invited to attend Saturday on "Club Women's Day".

Mrs. Charles Archambeault, president of San Jose Woman's Club, will preside at Saturday's meeting and the Country Woman's club of Campbell will be well represented.

Eastern Star Meets

Members of the Eastern Star enjoyed a full evening last Friday, starting with a pot-luck dinner for members and their families. The hall was gaily decorated in a ski lodge motif, anticipating the groundhog's weather and cleverly depicting a mountain ski trail.

Marie Barnes, deputy grand matron of the 40th district was presented and was on hand to witness the initiation of candidates. The newly-seated officers put on their degree work for the first time.

Elizabeth Ribble was installed as Martha in the Star Points, taking the place of Mae Hardtke who was unable to complete her term of office.

Two candidates were given the rites and accepted into membership.

Marie Suess headed the committee, composed of North members.

Mrs. George Hartwell will entertain the members of the Star Circle and their friends at a dessert luncheon on Friday, Feb. 8 at 1:30. All members and sojolrners are invited.

The Hartwell home is on Winchester Road just north of the high school grounds.

The Feb. 15 meeting of the Eastern Star will be Brother Night, with an appropriate program planned.

Members contributing jellies and jams for the children at the Stanford Convalescent Home are asked to bring their donations at this meeting.

Former Campbell Boy Gets Discharge

Sgt. Claude Ullom, son of Mrs. Lucile Platner, Richmond, and grandson of Mrs. M. C. Thieroff, Railroad Ave., received his discharge at San Pedro yesterday and will join his mother in Richmond today, after 22 months service in Germany and France. A member of the Engineering Corps, he served as a deep sea diver. After landing in New Jersey the sergeant was flown to the West Coast to facilitate his separation from the Army.

Ullom at one time attended the Campbell Grammar school and has many friends here. A brother, Leo, has recently entered the service and is awaiting assignment at Camp Beale.

Two Campbell Men Meet on Ship

S/Sgt. Don Soutar, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Soutar, Rincon Ave., was surprised to find on board ship returning from the C.B. I. theater a Campbell friend, Jim Nichols, who had also been serving in India. The meeting was completely unexpected as neither knew the location of the other.

Soutar, who enlisted in September, 1942, has spent the past year in India with the Air Transport Command and returned to his Campbell home last week. He attended school here and before entering the service was manager of the Diamond Match lumber yard at Fairfield. His wife, Leonora Johnson, was also a Campbell girl.

California Schools Accredited

Gov. Earl Warren was notified by the Department of Education today that 954 California institutions of learning have been accredited under the Federal "GI Bill of Rights".

A "veterans' adviser" has been designated at every public secondary school in the State, Roy E. Simpson, Superintendent of Public Instruction, told the governor.

This program, Simpson declared "has become a vital part of the State's service to the returning war veteran."

The junior colleges also "are making every effort to aid the veteran in his problem of educational readjustment," Simpson said. They are helping the veteran to make up high school deficiencies, and are offering preprofessional courses preparatory to college entrance.

The liberalized provisions of the GI Bill also authorize training of veterans by correspondence schools, Simpson said. However, the instruction offered must be approved by the State before the Veterans Administration will contract for the tuition of veterans.

Noble Grand Club Meets

The Past Noble Grand Club of Ada Rebekah Lodge convened at the home of Lottie Rice, Jan. 24, with a record attendance. After the business meeting bingo was enjoyed, followed by refreshments. The next regular meeting will be Feb. 28 at the home of Thelma Whitmore with Bonnie Silberbauer, hostess.

California Legislation

"Legislation for California should be based on common sense and a clear understanding of the limited part government can successfully play in our American private enterprise system," A. C. Hardison, of Santa Paula, president of California Taxpayers' Asscoiation and pioneer farm leader, said today, commenting on the program of the special session of the California state legislature which opened Jan. 7.

"There is no reason for dangerous, slipshod experimentation," Hardison declared. "Americans must be on guard lest totalitarianism or state socialism, however disguised, take over. There are no problems on the horizon that the American system cannot meet and solve satisfactorily.

"Government in California if carefully administered can weather the storm of the transition to a peace economy.

"The state unemployment insurance fund had climbed above $700,000,000, which authorities estimate will take care of all present commitments, if carefully administered and if no further liberalization is made.

"The state treasury has substantial amounts set aside for state construction and, if such need arises, for unemployment relief not covered by the state unemployment insurance fund.

"Local governments in many communities have already set up good-sized sums for construction.

"The backlog of necessary private demands and needs is huge.

"Perseverance and determination to pull together have brought the armed forces of the United States and our allies through a devastating war to victory over our enemies. Thrift and sound judgment, if applied with the same perseverance and determination, will carry us through these difficult days when reconversion and adjustment to peace are raising seemingly insoluble problems," Hardison contnued.

"In war or peace, fundamental principals to not change. Thrift, efficiency, common sense, progressiveness, are virtues for government to foster today.

"The United States today is at the crossroads. One way can lead to totalitarianism — to a people run by government. The other way—the hard way and the best way—is government by the people.

"Let us hew to the line of our free enterprise system, with its devotion to individual liberty and human progress. Let us buckle down to work out our salvation."

Southern Pacific is happy to announce that plans are under way for the SHASTA DAYLIGHTS
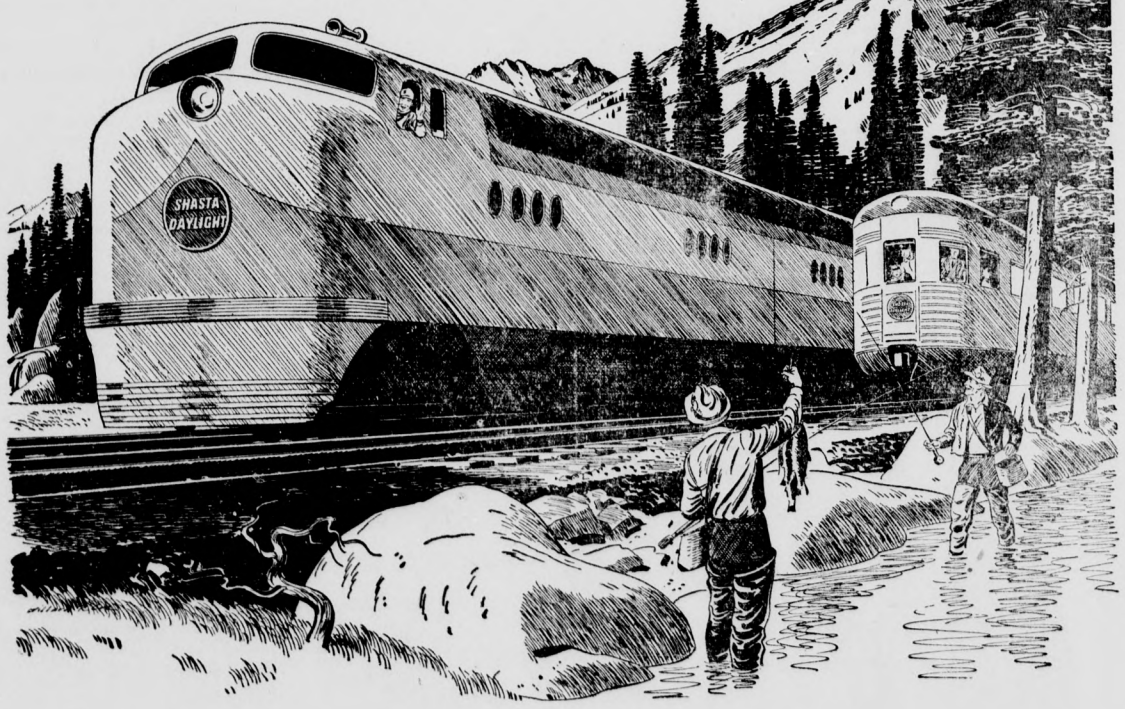
between San Francisco and Portland



We are happy to tell you that plans are under way for the first streamliners in Southern Pacific's postwar program—the Shasta Daylights. We promise you that we will spare no expense to make these the finest and most luxurious streamlined coach trains ever constructed.

Leaving San Francisco-Oakland and Portland in the morning and arriving in the late evening, the diesel-powered Shasta Daylights will speed daily in each direction over Southern Pacific's famous Shasta Route—certainly one of the most magnificent scenic trips in all the world.

Each seat on the Shasta Daylights will have its own individual window, and these windows will be of unique design—much taller than the windows on any other train. Through these enormous windows you will see the Sacramento Valley, Lassen Peak, Mt. Shasta and the vast lake behind Shasta Dam, the Cascade Mountains, Odell Lake, the lovely Willamette Valley.

We have given our ideas to the designers of the car building companies, who are now working out the details and technical specifications. As soon as bids are received, we will place orders for actual construction of the Shasta Daylights for delivery, we expect, before the end of the year.

A faster streamlined CASCADE

Our plans include streamlining the Cascade, making it a de luxe overnight sleeping car train between San Francisco and Portland. Based on designs now being worked out, orders will be placed for triple unit articulated cars for the Cascade similar to the ones on our Lark between Los Angeles and San Francisco. (Each unit consists of a lounge car, a dining car and a kitchen car.)

As fast as the manufacturers can deliver new streamlined sleeping cars they will be placed in service on the Cascade. This, we hope, will be early in 1947. The Cascade, as well as other trains, will be speeded up as soon as the present heavy traffic load eases, and before we receive the new equipment.

Some Dont's For Kite Fliers

The season for the age-old sport of flying kites is near at hand, and it is again time to remind parents that children indulging in the pastime should be carefully supervised. Properly done, kite-flying is an innocent and helpful outdoor sport and a good outlet for youthful enthusiasm. There are serious dangers involved, however, if kites are constructed with any metal or wire, or if metallic string is used.

There is a right and a wrong way to make and fly a kite. The right way will bring pleasure and safety. The wrong way will bring the hazards of personal injury and property damage. If the following simple rules are enforced by parents, and if children are made to understand the "Dont's" of kite-flying, the danger of accidents will be minimized:

1. Don't fly a kite near electric, trolley or telephone wires or transmission towers.
2. Don't climb poles to untangle a kite.
3. Don't let a kite go over radio aerials.
4. Don't build or fly a kite with metal or wire in the frame or tail.
5. Don't run across highways or streets while flying kites.
6. Don't use tinsel string, wire or any kind of twine that has a metallic substance. Use plain cotton cord.
7. Don't fly kites in rainy weather, because even a cotton cord, when wet, is a conductor of electricity.
8. Don't touch fallen electric wires. Fallen wires should be reported immediately to the P. G. and E.

Campbell Receives Thanks

Mrs. Archie Keesling, chairman of the Campbell branch of the American Red Cross, has received the following letter from Frank H. Lewis, San Jose chapter chairman:

Dear Mrs. Keesling:

"We wish to thank the Campbell branch for its generous and thoughtful contribution of a sign for the San Jose Chapter House.

"It has been our policy in the past, and will be in the future, to make the branches of the San Jose chapter more and more aware of their relationship to the mother chapter. This contribution is evidence of the close relationship which now exists between this chapter and the Campbell branch.

"We hope that the citizens of Campbell feel that the new Chapter House is theirs as much as it is San Jose's.

"Yours very truly,
"FRANK H. LEWIS."

The sign referred to was the one which was lettered by Ethan Lanphear for the new Red Cross Chapter House.

The young couple was married by Judge Miller in the Hall of Justice in San Jose, and following the simple ceremony, left for a wedding trip to Santa Cruz.

The bride chose as her costume for the rites a turquoise suit with brown accessories. With this she wore a corsage of white camellias.

Formerly a resident of Campbell, the new Mrs. Leech met her husband when they were neighbors here. The bridegroom is attending San Jose Tech and plans on enrolling at Santa Clara University in the fall.

"Salome, Where She Danced", coming next week to the Campbell Theater, is a curious and often incredible, film. It ranges from international intrigue involving a Prusso-Austrian war, to the American West, to San Francisco in post-Civil War lush times, to attempted piracy on the high seas by cowboys—all because of a beautiful woman.

She is Yvonne DeCarlo, ballet dancer who also dances "Salome". Rod Cameron, American newspaper man, loves her. An Austrian archduke, loves her. Albert Dekker, Prussian staff officer, goes for her. Walter Slezak, Russian diplomat, is a conquest, and so, too, is simple David Bruce, Virgina lad.

Michael J. Phillips is credited with the original story, and Laurence Stallings, who once wrote "What Price Glory", with the script.

Miss DeCarlo, in her debut, is inexperienced and requires greater camera ease, but she is undoubtedly attractive and can dance. The technicolor photography gives evidence that money was not spared in the production.

Navy Offers Inducements

The United States Navy is now accepting enlistments for two, three, four or six years, announced Chief Crickenberger, recruiter in charge of Navy Recruiting Sub-Station, San Jose, Calif., Post Office Building, room 227.

Men volunteering for a first enlistment or re-enlistment in the regular Navy are now given an option on the length of time they wish to serve. Applicants 17 years of age may now enlist for two, three or not to exceed minority years.

Men 18 to 30 years of age may now be enlisted for two, three, four or six years. Men over 30, also will be eligible for enlistment in the regular Navy if their total previous military or naval service deducted from their present age place them in the 18-30 group.

Ratings for which first enlistments in the regular Navy may be made by men without previous military or naval service are: apprentice seaman, first class for electronic technician's mate training.

Most attractive are the following benefits made available to men enlisting for the first time in the U. S. Navy, Chief Crickenberger mentioned.

Advantages under the G. I. Bill of Rights assured at the end of enlistments, including mustering out pay, educational and other benefits.

Family allowances extended for full period of enlistments and re-enlistments made prior to July 1, 1946.

Permanent extension of wartime 20 per cent extra allowance for sea and overseas duty.

Free postage until December 31, 1947.

Young men, between the ages of 17 and 30, inclusive, who are interested in learning the advantages of a regular Navy enlistment are invited to visit the Navy Recruiting Sub-Station, Post Office Building, room 227, San Jose, Calif.

Dairy News

Ernie Edgerton, ranch superintendent, states that a walk-through type milking parlor will be constructed and ready for the 150 milking cows by March 1. Treble Damages

The price panels of the 32 price control boards now operating in the San Francisco District of the Office of Price Administration have been directed to assert administrator's claims for treble damages in all cases of price violations. This was revealed today by Kenneth R. Hammaker, district director.

The effect of this directive, Hammaker said, will be that hereafter unintentional violations of the price regulations and ceilings will be treated in exactly the same way as deliberate violations. Treble damages will be collected for all overcharges.

Hammaker pointed out that several courts have held that overcharges due to carelessness or ignorance are just as inflationary as deliberate violations, and so must be regarded as equally contrary to both the letter and spirit of the Emergency Price Control Act. He added that, after three of price control, ignorance and carelessness no longer can be regarded as valid excuses for violating the price regulations.

The nature of the administrator's claim was explained by Hammaker as a claim for treble damages on behalf of the government which becomes valid whenever a price over ceiling has been charged for any commodity under price control. Authority to assert this claim and settle for treble damages has been delegated by Chester Bowles, OPA Administrator, to the price panels of the local Price Control Boards.
